The Social Work Program at Malone University

Malone University is carrying on one of the great traditions in social work - educating people for a life's work of assisting others. In Malone's program, this is done by encouraging personal faith, training persons to be able to do social work, and having them learn appropriate professional relationships.

Malone University is a four-year liberal arts institution affiliated with the Evangelical Friends Church. Social work is a natural major for the school to provide. Malone was founded in 1892 as Cleveland Bible College by Friends couple, Walter and Emma Malone, who were very concerned about social conditions and problems. The Malones were actively involved in providing direct services to Cleveland's poor (shelter, food, and education). The college moved to Canton, Ohio in 1957 and changed its name in honor of its founders.

The social work program at Malone University began in 1978 and was initially accredited by the Council on Social Work Education as an approved baccalaureate program in 1984. The program was fully accredited in 1992, and reaffirmation was successfully completed in 2001, 2008, and 2016. The Malone University Social Work Program is fully accredited and will come up again for reaffirmation in June, 2024.

General Education and Social Work Education

Social Workers are best able to serve their clients when they have both the competency to help and the ability to listen to the needs of the diverse persons served by the profession. The Social Work program requires its majors to meet both the General Education requirements of the University, and to take additional courses in the liberal arts. These additional courses are designed to assist students to embrace and serve an increasingly diverse world.

Social Work Education

Malone's Social Work Program is designed to address three issues facing social work education:

1. Articulating and communicating a uniform definition of generalist practice
2. Building on the liberal arts
3. Connecting curriculum with community

Generalist Practice is grounded in the liberal arts and the person and environment construct. Generalist social work empowers individuals, families, groups and communities to protect, enhance and create relationships that foster the profession's six core values: competency, service, caring relationships, personal uniqueness and worth, social justice, and integrity towards the goals of fostering people's well-being and freedom of choice (Adapted from CSWE 2008, Reamer 1982).

Generalist social workers analyze social functioning, social relationships, social interactions, and individuals in interaction with the environment. This holistic perspective suggests social workers must be trained to assist others to make personal changes, to help people initiate changes in social policies, laws, and institutions which impact their lives, and to link them to resource systems. Social workers must be willing to assess and utilize appropriate techniques within societal systems of all sizes.

Social work employs techniques that assist people to engage in strengths based, goal directed thinking and decision-making. Social Work's knowledge is holistic and interactionist based and then is driven by social work's core values: the importance of caring relationships, service, integrity, competency, social justice, and personal uniqueness and worth. Social workers must be skilled in the application of their training. Internships and field placements invite students to identify and respond to the interplay between people's physical needs, their psycho-social development, echo systems, the strengths perspective, and anti-oppressive practice toward a plan change process.

Social Work education is designed to provide students with the tools to effectively practice entry-level social work. The Malone University program affirms and upholds the standards set forth by the Council on Social Work Education and is firmly committed to providing an education that will prepare its graduates for a career in social work or master's level training.

Mission Statement of the Social Work Program at Malone University

The Malone University Social Work Program draws on its unique context as an Evangelical Friends institution with access to urban, rural, and international practice opportunities to prepare entry-level social work practitioners who are capable of culturally appropriate practice across diverse populations who promote social justice and who can ethically integrate Christian faith with social work practice. This foundation fosters the growth of practice wisdom and scientific inquiry with an overarching purpose of enhancing the quality of life for micro, mezzo, and macro systems in relation to their environment.

Diversity and Social Work

Acceptance and encouragement of diversity have long been hallmarks of the profession of social work. The Malone University Social Work Program is also committed to these practices. The program will not discriminate in its admissions or education based on multiple factors including but not limited to age, class, color, culture, disability and ability, ethnicity, gender, gender identity and expression, immigration status, marital status, political ideology, race, religion/spirituality, sex, sexual orientation, and tribal sovereign status. Students are expected to abide with the guidelines of the Malone Attitudinal and Behavioral Expectations and the Community Agreement as outlined in the University Catalog. Further, students are expected to understand and abide by the expectations outlined within this Handbook and the NASW Code of Ethics. The program is committed to presenting students with various perspectives on social issues and welcomes opportunities for students to be involved with those whose ethnicity, culture and/or experiences differ from the student's ethnicity, culture and experiences.

Malone's Social Work Program: Utilizing the Canton Community

The Social Work program at Malone utilizes the dynamics from the rural communities of the counties south and west, the industrialized communities to the north, the Ohio Appalachian Communities directly south, the urban context of Canton, and international contexts to understand global issues, in order to assist students to understand and utilize generalist skills. The city provides examples of both concerns and resources to the program. The social service network functions to bring services to a variety of individuals, groups, and communities. The Social Work program at Malone emphasizes training students to utilize techniques with a strengthening person-in-environment perspective. The program seeks to produce entry-level generalist social workers that are able to recognize individual resilience and empower those served toward optimal functioning within their social context. Students are encouraged to attend on and off campus professional events to re-enforce community engagement.

Overview of the Senior Field Experience

The purpose of the Senior Field Placement is to provide students with the opportunity to gain extensive, practical social work experience prior to graduation. This is accomplished by having each senior social work student complete a "block placement" of approximately 30 hours per week for 15 weeks. (Please note: due to agency and student needs, the weekly schedule may vary, but all students must accumulate at least 450 hours of field experience by the end of the semester in order to graduate. Exceptions to this rule are extremely rare and must be approved in advance by both the Field Director and the Chair of the Social Work Department.) Per Malone University Social Work Program Policy and CSWE Regulations, at no time will a student be allowed to complete less than 400 hours of field placement and successfully complete the program.

During the Senior Field Placement:

1. Students are to spend approximately 30 hours per week in the field. As noted above, actual hours worked per week may be negotiated based on the host agency's needs, as well as the students. However, students are expected to adhere to a regular schedule, similar to that of most Bachelor's-level social workers within the host agency.
2. Students may follow the academic calendar in regard to breaks, but must discuss this with their Field Supervisor well ahead of time.
3. When a student is unable to report to the agency as scheduled (i.e., illness or emergency), s/he is to call the agency to relay this information. Except in cases of dire emergency this should be accomplished prior to the student's scheduled time at the agency. The student is required to make up hours missed as necessary to complete 450 total hours for the field experience.

4. Students will attend, or as required, complete online assignments and posts as part of the weekly Field Instruction Seminar during their Senior Field Placement. Attendance is mandatory, as are all online assignments. Online assignments are due by the time specified in the syllabus.
5. Students are held accountable to practice in accordance with the NASW Code of Ethics and the Ohio State Code of Professional Conduct (OH Adm. Code 475-7-5-01.) Failure to do so will result in disciplinary action. Potential consequences of unethical practice include, but are not limited to: reduction of grade, failure of Field Placement, delayed graduation, or dismissal from the Malone University Social Work Program. See the Malone University Social Work Program Handbook, including the sections entitled Dismissal from the Program and Student Accountability for further details.
6. Students are required to follow all agency policies and procedures, including dress codes.

Content Requirements for Senior Field Placement

The University recognizes that social workers operate in a variety of practice settings and that each setting provides unique learning opportunities for students. It is the intent of the faculty to allow students and host agencies to develop assignments based on the students' personal goals and interests, the needs of the host agency, and the expertise of the Field Supervisor.

To ensure the role of the student as the learner, if the student desires to complete a field practicum at the same location where they are employed, they must have new and different responsibilities than that of their employment job description, duties and responsibilities. The field director will work with the student and assigned supervisor (Field Supervisor) to ensure that employment and internship responsibilities are not the same and that new learning is taking place during the students' practicum experience. This policy applies to all field practicums that students enroll in for credit (sophomore, junior and senior level practicums).

Listed below are specific content areas that must be addressed within the Senior Field Placement.

Required Content:

1. Orientation to Social Work values and ethics as they specifically relate to the host agency's field(s) of practice. This includes instructions on confidentiality procedures, client rights, grievance procedures, and other related issues.
2. Students must have access to a population-at-risk. Students are generally expected to carry a partial caseload for the second half of their Senior Field Placement. (Students should have opportunities for micro, mezzo, and macro-level practice with populations served by the agency.)

3. Students should be oriented to the authority structure, chain of command, employee grievance procedure, credentialing body requirements, and agency procedures as soon as possible after beginning the Senior Field Placement.
4. Students should receive at least 1 hour per week of direct supervision from their primary Field Supervisor. Senior students must be supervised by Field Supervisors who have a BSW or MSW and state license if the agency is in the State of Ohio and must have two years post-licensure practice experience. Other agency staff may be involved in structuring and guiding the student's field experience, but, due to accrediting requirements, senior social work students must be supervised as specified above. Field Supervisors should be prepared to produce a copy of their academic degree and relevant credentials during the first meeting with the Field Liaison.
5. Field Supervisors must guide interns in use of theory appropriate to the population the intern is working with.
6. A learning contract (See Appendix 1) with clear and measurable educational objectives and tasks should be completed within 5 business days of the first day of the Senior Field Placement.
7. Two Field Placement Conferences involving the Intern, Field Supervisor, and Field Liaison will take place during the field experience.
8. Students must attend the Field Instruction Seminar on a regular basis. The Field Instruction Seminar will require various field related assignments.

All Field Supervisors are asked to self-report their highest social work degree earned and to provide identifying information for the Field Director to confirm licensure through state board license look-up.

4. Be willing to adhere to the required content guidelines listed in Section 14.
5. If a student desires to complete an internship at his/her place of employment, the student must demonstrate in advance that the internship will consist of learning experiences, assignments, and instruction/supervision beyond the normal scope of the student's employment. The student must also be supervised by someone other than his/her employment supervisor. The field placement supervisor (Field Supervisor) must hold the required credentials. A student desiring to complete an employment-based internship must meet with the Malone University Field Education Director during the semester prior to the internship to discuss his/her wish to intern with his/her employer. The Field Education Director will assess whether the situation is conducive to a valid learning experience taking place. The Field Education Director may require that the student and agency submit a Student Learning Contract and relevant credentials prior to the end of the semester preceding the scheduled internship.

Policies to Promote Student Safety

1. Students are required to comply with their field placement's policy in terms of safety in their placement.
2. Students are required to meet campus Covid policies as well as any Covid related policy that their field placement may have.
3. In inclement weather situations, students are required to communicate with their field supervisor and determine appropriate course of action in terms of commuting to their practicum placement.
4. Students are required to comply with the NASW Code of Ethics in their field placement setting.
5. SWK440 students are required to schedule and attend weekly supervision with their social work credentialed field supervisor.
6. Field liaison, student, and social work supervisor are to meet at least twice a semester to ensure safety in SWK440.

Student Responsibilities

1. Students must be accepted to the major to begin their senior field placement. Prior to the acceptance to the social work major, the student must have received a criminal background check. It is the student's responsibility to make sure one has been completed, and is on file. If there is likely to be a negative finding on the report or the student has lived in multiple geographical areas, it may take a significantly longer processing time. Agencies are welcome to require an additional background check as needed.
2. Initiate contact with the agency and maintain communication as needed, including times when appointments or meetings cannot be attended as planned.
3. Attend all orientation sessions and scheduled visits.

4. Meet with the staff for assignments, supervision, evaluation, etc., as needed and requested.
5. Be at the agency on time, well rested, and appropriately dressed, with an open mind, prepared to work.
6. Complete the field contact duties and other assignments fully and completely.
7. Submit documentation within required time frames.

Field Supervisor Responsibilities

1. Be familiar with the educational objectives and requirements of the Malone University Social Work Program.
2. Within the time frame noted, develop a field learning contract with each student to meet the educational objectives, complete the Malone/Agency agreement and submit this to the Field Director.
3. Provide consistent and appropriate opportunities for the student to observe and practice social work. Provide weekly supervision and regular feedback and evaluation for the student.
4. Communicate with the Malone University social work faculty liaison if problems begin to develop.

Faculty Liaison and Seminar Instructor Responsibilities

1. Link students and agencies.
2. Prepare students for the field experience prior to the placement and monitor their performance through the seminar, journals, and papers.
3. Approve the learning contract developed by the student and Field Supervisor.
4. Provide group leadership for the students in the Field Instruction Seminar.
5. Be available to meet with students individually.
6. Make contacts with the agencies by telephone. Be willing to visit as needed/requested.
7. Assign a final grade for the experience, taking into account student performance throughout the placement and the Field Supervisor's recommendation.
8. Attend Field Placement Conferences as scheduled at agency sites within driving distance, in-person or via telephone/SKYPE or other video media, if the student is placed outside of a 50-mile radius of the University.

If Problems Arise

It is possible that problems will arise. The problems may be between the student and Field Supervisor, student and staff, student and clients, between students, etc. Problems are a normal part of the learning process. The goal is to negotiate the problems in a satisfactory way. Problems should not be ignored.

Problems should be resolved at the lowest level possible. A student's first recourse, in nearly all situations, is to address any problem related to the field placement with his/her Field Supervisor. If a student feels uncomfortable discussing a problem with a Field Supervisor, he/she may address the problem with the Faculty Field Liaison. Extraordinary issues that cannot be addressed with a Faculty Field Liaison should be discussed with the Field Director. Particularly difficult problems, including discontinuing a placement, will be discussed with the social work Faculty Liaison, the Field Director, and the Department Chair.

Problem identification and resolutions should be summarized as a routine part of the student journal and Field Supervisor/faculty liaison conferences.

Policies Regarding Termination from the Program

A student will be terminated from the program if:

- He or she does not meet the academic requirements for admission/retention in the social work program as outlined above.
- The student is terminated from the school for academic or other reasons.
- He or she fails to abide by the "student accountability" guidelines (as outlined in the Social Work Program Handbook)
- She or he is found in ongoing violation of the NASW Code of Ethics while participating in a Social Work Program sponsored activity, classroom or field experience.
- She or he fails to satisfactorily complete the Senior Field Practicum.

Policies Regarding Termination from Senior Field Placement

- If a Field Supervisor finds a student's performance to be unacceptable, s/he shall meet with the student and provide the student with written documentation of the areas which need improvement. The student may also be placed on probationary status with the agency. The Malone University Faculty Liaison and the Field Director should be notified of the above within 1 business day.
- If the student fails to make the necessary changes, the Field Supervisor will discuss his/her desire to terminate the placement with the Faculty Liaison and Field Director.
- The Field Director, Field Supervisor, and student will meet to bring closure to the placement.
- Field placements may be terminated immediately, without following the procedures above, if a student engages in behavior which violates the NASW Code of Ethics or the Ohio State Code of Professional Conduct.

Covid-19 Policy and Consent Form

Malone University
Covid-19 Policy and Consent to Return to Field for SWK Majors

As a student at Malone University enrolled in a field experience/clinical course, I wish to continue my education by completing my field/clinical experience as part of my program. As a member of the Malone University community, I have an important role to play in keeping myself, the Malone community and those that I will be exposed to as part of my field/clinical experience safe by doing my part to stop the spread of COVID-19.

I also understand that despite all reasonable efforts by myself, the university or the placement site that I will be completing my experience, I can still contract COVID-19 and other infections. In order to reduce my risk, I agree to be an active participant in maintaining my own health, wellbeing and safety, as well as the safety of others, by following all the guidelines and expectations outlined by the university and the placement site at which I will be completing my field/clinical experience.

Field Experience/Clinical Policy:

1. Students must take their temperature before leaving home. The CDC defines a fever of 100.4 degrees Fahrenheit or higher. If fever is noted, do not report to field/clinical site and contact your advisor and/or preceptor. CDC guidelines will be followed for your return to the facility.
2. Students must adhere to all facility policies and protocols.
3. Take all measures to reduce the spread of Covid-19.
4. All personal items (except those that can fit in your pockets) must be kept in your car.
5. If you become symptomatic while at your field/clinical site, immediately leave the site and contact Malone Health Services (330-471-8340) or your local health department for further instruction.

Take every day preventative steps (CDC, 2020)

- Wash your hands frequently.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth.
- Stay home when you are sick.
- Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash.
- Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces.
- Be prepared if your child's school or childcare facility is temporarily dismissed or for potential changes at your workplace.

Watch for symptoms (CDC, 2020)

People with COVID-19 have had a wide range of symptoms reported – ranging from mild symptoms to severe illness.

Symptoms may appear 2-14 days after exposure to the virus. People with these symptoms or combinations of symptoms may have COVID-19:

- Cough
- Shortness of breath or difficulty breathing

Or at least two of these symptoms:

- Fever
- Chills
- Repeated shaking with chills
- Muscle pain
- Headache
- Sore throat
- New loss of taste or smell

Children have similar symptoms to adults and generally have mild illness.

This list is not all inclusive. Please consult your medical provider for any other symptoms that are severe or concerning to you.

The objective of the Senior Field Experience is to introduce students to generalist social work techniques and social welfare institutions. The experience provides introductory exposure to social work, agency dynamics, and the social welfare policy. The goal of the Senior Field Experience is to assist students in evaluating their interest in pursuing a career in social work, as well as their potential for effective social work practice. The agency provides opportunities for students to be introduced to the agency and its role in the community.

The Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) requires Bachelor's level social work students to demonstrate proficiency in 9 distinct competencies by the time they graduate (CSWE, 2015). The senior level placement is the first opportunity for students to gain experience towards developing these competencies. The student learning contract is based on the 9 competencies and provides a broad framework for developing an individualized learning plan which is responsive to the needs of the student and the resources of the field agency. Each competency below must have at least one student task which relates directly to the competency. Sample tasks are included to assist students and Field Supervisors in developing appropriate tasks. Please do not hesitate to contact the social work field director, Bekka Russell, russell@malone.edu or 330-471-8480 if you have any questions.

Please note that students should be introduced to a broad range of experiences. Ideally, students should be exposed to social work intervention and practice at micro-, mezzo-, and macro-levels of intervention (individual, family or group, organizational and community levels).

The student learning contract provides a broad framework for developing an individualized learning plan which is responsive to the needs of the student and the resources of the field agency. This learning contract outlines each competency and practice behavior that all accredited social work programs are required to measure. Each learning practice behavior below must have at least one student task which relates directly to the behavior. A sample contract is included to assist students and Field Supervisors in developing appropriate tasks. Feel free to contact Bekka Russell, Malone University Field Director (rrussell@malone.edu or 330-471-8480) or your field liaison if you have any additional questions.

APPENDIX 2

CSWE EDUCATIONAL POLICY AND ACCREDITATION STANDARDS

NOTE: Information in Appendix 5 is taken from the CSWE
2015 Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards
(Accreditation Guidelines available in the Social Work Department upon request.)

Introduction

Accreditation is a system for recognizing educational institutions and professional programs affiliated with those institutions as having a level of performance, integrity, and quality that entitles them to the confidence of the educational community and the public they serve. The Commission on Accreditation (COA) of the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) is recognized by the Council for Higher Education Authority to accredit baccalaureate and master's degree programs in social work education in the United States and its territories. The COA is responsible for formulating, promulgating, and implementing the accreditation standards for baccalaureate and master's degree programs in social work, for ensuring the standards define competent preparation, and for confirming that accredited social work programs meet the standards. To this end, CSWE's COA administers a multistep accreditation process that involves program self-studies and benchmarks, site visits, and COA reviews.

The accreditation review process provides professional judgments on the quality of a social work education program in an institution. These findings are based on applying the Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards (EPAS) promulgated by the Commission on Educational Policy (COEP) and the COA. The essential purpose of the accreditation process is to provide a professional judgment of the quality of the program offered and to encourage continual improvement. Moreover, systematic examination of compliance with established standards supports public confidence in the quality of professional social work education and in the competence of social work practice.

EPAS Revision Process

The COA and the COEP are responsible for revising the EPAS. The revision takes place in accordance with the CSWE bylaws, which mandate that the policy statement be reviewed by COEP "at periodic intervals not to exceed 7 years." CSWE's recognition by the Council for Higher Education Authority also requires that accreditors have a process whereby standards are reviewed periodically by the COA.

The most recent standards review process took more than 5 years and resulted in three drafts issued for public review and comment. The intent of the COA and the COEP was to solicit feedback from as many constituents as possible in as many ways as possible. The COEP and the COA would like to thank the programs, individuals, organizations, and communities of interest that provided feedback on all of the drafts.

The educational policy, which details the new social work competencies for the 2015 EPAS, was developed by COEP and approved by the CSWE Board of Directors on March 20, 2015. The accreditation standards were developed and approved by the COA on June 11, 2015. Programs that have reaffirmation reviews in October 2017 or later will use the 2015 EPAS to prepare their self-studies. Programs applying for candidacy in 2016 and beyond would use the 2015 EPAS for their benchmark documents.

Purpose: Social Work Practice, Education, and Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards

The purpose of the social work profession is to promote human and community well-being. Guided by a person-in-environment framework, a global perspective, respect for human diversity, and knowledge based on scientific inquiry, the purpose of social work is actualized through its quest for social and economic justice, the prevention of conditions that limit human rights, the elimination of poverty, and the enhancement of the quality of life for all persons, locally and globally.

Social work educators serve the profession through their teaching, scholarship, and service. Social work education at the baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral levels shapes the profession's future through the education of competent professionals, the generation of knowledge, the promotion of evidence-informed practice through scientific inquiry, and the exercise of leadership within the professional community. Social work education is advanced by the scholarship of teaching and learning, and scientific inquiry into its multifaceted dimensions, processes, and outcomes.

The Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) uses the Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards (EPAS) to accredit baccalaureate and master's level social work programs. EPAS supports academic excellence by establishing thresholds for professional competence. It permits programs to use traditional and emerging models and methods of curriculum design by balancing requirements that promote comparable outcomes across programs with a level of flexibility that encourages programs to differentiate.

EPAS describe four features of an integrated curriculum design: (1) program mission and goals, (2) explicit curriculum, (3) implicit curriculum, and (4) assessment. The educational policy and the accreditation standards are conceptually linked to each other. Educational Policy describes each curriculum feature. Accreditation standards are derived from the Educational policy and specify the requirements used to develop and maintain an accredited social work program at the baccalaureate (B) or master's (M) level.

Competency-Based Education

In 2008 CSWE adopted a competency-based education framework for its EPAS. As in related health and human service professions, the policy moved from a model of curriculum design focused on content (what students should be taught) and structure (the format and organization of educational components) to one focused on student learning outcomes. A competency-based approach refers to identifying and assessing what students demonstrate in practice. In social work this approach involves assessing students' ability to demonstrate the competencies identified in the educational policy.

Competency-based education rests upon a shared view of the nature of competence in professional practice. Social work competence is the ability to integrate and apply social work knowledge, values, and skills to practice situations in a purposeful, intentional, and professional manner to promote human and community well-being. EPAS recognizes a holistic view of competence; that is, the demonstration of competence is informed by knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes that include the social worker's critical thinking, affective reactions, and exercise of judgment in regard to unique practice situations. Overall professional competence is multi-dimensional and composed of interrelated competencies. An individual social worker's competence is seen as developmental and dynamic, changing over time in relation to continuous learning.

Competency-based education is an outcomes-oriented approach to curriculum design. The goal of the outcomes approach is to ensure that students are able to demonstrate the integration and application of the competencies in practice. In EPAS, social work practice competence consists of nine interrelated competencies and component behaviors that are comprised of knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes.

Using a curriculum design that begins with the outcomes, expressed as the expected competencies, programs develop the substantive content, pedagogical approach, and educational activities that provide learning opportunities for students to demonstrate the competencies.

Assessment of student learning outcomes is an essential component of competency-based education. Assessment provides evidence that students have demonstrated the level of competence necessary to enter professional practice, which in turn shows programs are successful in achieving their goals. Assessment information is used to improve the educational program and the methods used to assess student learning outcomes.

Programs assess students' demonstration of competence. The assessment methods used by programs gather data that serve as evidence of student learning outcomes and the demonstration of competence. Understanding social work practice is complex and multi-dimensional, the assessment methods used by programs and the data collected may vary by context.

The nine Social Work Competencies are listed below. Programs may add competencies that are consistent with their mission and goals and respond to their context. Each competency describes the knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes that comprise the competency at the generalist level of practice, followed by a set of behaviors that integrate these components. These behaviors represent observable components of the competencies, while the preceding statements represent the underlying content and processes that inform the behaviors.

Competency 1: Demonstrate Ethical and Professional Behavior

Social workers understand the value base of the profession and its ethical standards, as well as relevant laws and regulations that may impact practice at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels.
